In offering their time and work as well as contributing a cash outlay of $250 to the erection of the addition to the Truckee fire station, the local volunteer firemen are showing a real community spirit. They have gone as far as offering to loan the district any amount up to the size of their gift, if necessary, to procure the new building. While it is understood the building may afford pleasure for the firemen, it will also provide a much needed improvement and result in a more efficient and valuable department. They should be commended, for after all, the project marks a community development any way you look at it.

The sanitary board this week is attempting to secure the cooperation of owners of untenantable buildings and shacks throughout town in their drive to make Truckee more presentable and make property more valuable by the campaign. We don's know what luck they are having, but it seems that this cooperation would not be hard to obtain as the results will be a great benefit, not alone to the community but to the owners of the property in question.

We have often wondered why it is that too often worthy, beneficial and important programs are instituted and at the first sign of opposition are dropped and mentioned only in low voices and in awe? There is an old saying that goes "If a task is once begun —" and so forth, but it is not hard to recall many worthwhile tasks which have died aborning simply because some pessimist or chronic kicker says it can't be done or it shouldn't be done. When we stop to think of all the good that could be accomplished with a little more determination and less consideration for the knocker, it is almost appalling.

Everyone who has the interests of their community at heart should, if possible, attend the meeting of the high school board of trustees tomorrow night. The board is anxious to determine the attitude of the taxpayers toward procuring a gymnasium for the young people of Truckee. It is understood that the topic will be chiefly around plans for the proposed American Legion hall with an aim to have a gymnasium included, but the possibility exisits that the group may even consider a way of utilizing the grammar school's auditorium for a youths' recreational center. It has been seriously considered before and while nothing came of the talk, it is just possible that the idea may be revived. We certainly need and are entitled to such a place for our youngsters and we sincerely hope a solution can be reached at the meeting.

That we really have young people here to take advantage of any project benefitting them is evidenced in the fine attendance at the Community Church Sunday school. More than 120 have attended since the first of the year, a record being established a week ago when 67 responded to roll call. A recent Sunday school party attracted 93, an indication that these youngsters are alert to any clean pleasure presented for them and also a pretty good recommendation for the new pastor and his wife who are attempting to help the children find the kind of fun normal boys and girls enjoy.

Tahoe can well be proud of its skiiers. In many papers in the state they are usually rated as Olympic material because of their achievements on the hills. And what makes the picture even more attractive is the pride with which these champs wear the Tahoe colors. They are given the unanimous support of their club and community.

Travel to the great San Francisco World's fair has started. Each day sees more and more out of state cars parked along our streets and we wonder what they think of the papers and other debris strewn along the otherwise attractive thoroughfare Our stores are all better than average in appearance and our lighting effect with the scores of shining Neons can not be beaten for a small town, but the untidy condition of the streets offer a less appealing sight for our many visitors.

Automobiles were able to get into Truckee from Hobart Mills Monday for the first time in a month. The road has been closed by snow but was opened this week by the state equipment. Residents are hoping the road will remain open for the balance of the year.

Addition To Fire Station Started For Truckee

Firemen Aid In Financing New Addition To Hall Here

WORK STARTED TODAY

Dormitory Will Be Included In Plans For New Structure

Work was expected to be started this week on the new addition to the Truckee fire station just east of the Southern Pacific Hotel on Commercial Row, according to Fire Chief N. F. Dolley, who has been active in securing the improvement.

At a special meeting of the fire department Wednesday morning, it was voted to contribue $250 to the required $750 needed for the structure and lend all possible aid to the work The district, it is understood will provide the additional $500.

The structure as planned will include a dormitory with a small bed room for a fireman to occupy at night and a shower and lavatory. The building will be a one-story frame affair 16 by 28 feet. It will be joined to the present fire house on the south, between the railroad tracks and the station.

Harvey Frazier will be in charge of the work, according to present arrangements and will be assisted by volunteers of the fire department.

The addition will be sufficiently large to contain a hose drying rack a necessity now unavailable at the station.

PROGRAM OFFERED AS LIONS HERE FETE GUESTS AT PARTY

One of the most enjoyable parties ever held in Truckee.

This was the opinion expressed by many following the Ladies Night banquet and program of the Truckee Lions Club held Saturday night at the California restaurant.

Several novel entertaining stunts had been arranged by the committee and were presented during the banquet. Following the meal, dancing and cards were enjoyed by the 50 present.

A rare treat in addition to the menu were the baked and buttered Tulelake potatoes provided each of the guests by C. Alex Clements of the Bank of America. The added attraction won the approval of all and even most rigid diets were forgotten

Nevada County Allotment Of Patients At Weimar Exceeds Available Funds

With 19 patients from Nevada county now receiving treatment at Weimar Sanitarium, a ban has been placed by this county's board of supervisors on sending any additional tuberculosis patients from this county for treatment, stating that the money provided for in the budget for that purpose has been exhausted.

The supervisors added that the cost of treating the patients now from this county will reach a total of $4,800 by next June and that warrants will have to be drawn on the reserve fund to maintain the patients.

It is probable that next year's budget will carry larger allocations but that no money can be obtained for the purpose until the beginning of the next fiscal year.

Precipitation For Year Only Slightly Less Than Normal

Recent Storm Brought Total Snowfall For Season To 125 Inches

The four inches of snow that fell Tuesday morning added .28 of an inch precipitation in this area to bring the total for the season, starting last Septmeber 1, to 14.54 inches.

This, according to H. I. Snider Truckee forest ranger, is 2.05 inches under the seasonal normal, while the February precipitation of 4.76 inches, is 1.48 inches over normal for the month.

Snider, who keeps an accurate record of the weather here, said that the total snowfall for the season since September 1, 1938, measured 125½ inches, with the pack here on Tuesday of 20 inches. This is compared with a total fall of 257½ inches on this date last year when the pack on March 1 was 56 inches.

Although there is still ample time for considerable more precipitation the forecast is for continued fair weather.

BUD OWENS WINS IN SKI JUMPING MEET AT SAN FRANCISCO

RENO, Mar. 2.— Officials and coaches of the University of Nevada Ski Club werein San Francisco Saturday night with their faces probably showing a reddish tinge. The boy they almost left in Reno won the opening distance event of the Golden Gate International Exposition's Intercollegiate ski jumping tournament.

Bud Owens of Truckee went 103 feet on the iron and wooden ski hill covered with powdered ice for the best jump of the day and edged out Art McMurray of California by three feet and Dave Quinney, Utah, who leaped 98 feet.

United Press reports said that Saturday's competition was for distance only.

University students in Reno Saturday night revealed that Owens only accompanied the team to San Francisco after a last minute decision They said he was to have been left behind because there was a shortage of funds to take another skiier.

LIONS WILL ATTEND AUBURN MEETING NEXT WEDNESDAY

At last night's meeting the club went on record as favoring the early construction of the proposed new veterans' memorial building and will urge that a gymnasium be included in the plans. H. I. Snider, president of the high school board of trustees invited the Lions to attend the meeting at the school tomorrow night when the gymnasium will be be up for discusion.

Added Assurance Given That Road Will Be Unchanged

Director Of Public Works In Letter Says No Funds Are Provided

EXPLAINS THE REASONS

Highwty Will Remain For At Least Another Two Years

Still further assurance that the state highway will not be rerouted through Truckee for at least another two years was given in a letter this week to the Truckee Chamber of Commerce from Frank W. Clark director of public works.

The letter came in reply to one from the chamber asking that the state investigate the possibility of realigning the east and west entrances to the town to eliminate what was termed an unsafe and unsightly condition.

Clark said in part:

"Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of February 6, relative to a matter of widening the east and west approaches to Truckee.

"The state highway budget as finally adopted by the California Highway Commission and submitted to the Governor, did not include an item of construction on the section of the state highway referred to; and by reason of explanation, the following is submitted:

"From the Truckee Wye through Truckee to a junction with State Highway Route 83 (Sierraville Road) a distance of 1.4 miles, is estimated to cost $130,000, exclusive of rights of way. Prior to the formation of a highway program, the staff of the State Division of Highways is engaged in engineering investigation covering the entire state highway system; and after consultation between our district engineers and headquarters staff engineers, a report is made to the California Highway Commission on the requirements of the state highway system. Of course, the allocations are limited to the legal requirements for distribution between the 13 Southern Counties and the 45 Northern Counties, and between the Primary ad Secondary State Highway Systems."

The director then went on to explain reasons why the Truckee road could not be included in the budget expressing regret that meritorius projects must be eliminated because of the shortage of funds received to carry out the many projects asked.

"Recent estimated costs of modernizing the present state highway system," he wrote "including approximately 1200 miles of major traffic arteries to multiply lane divided highways, represents a figure of $420,000,00."

Gymnasium Will Be Subject Of Talks At School Board Meet

Discussion Expected To Be Centered About New Veterans' Hall

Considerable interest is being manifested in the proposed public meeting to be held tomorrow night under the auspices of the high school board of trustees at the high school at 8 o'clock when a general discussion will be featured relative to the procurement of a suitable gymnasium.

H. I. Snider, president of the board, in calling the meeting said that he hoped to able to create sympathy to a plan of adding a gymnasium to the proposed new Veterans' Memorial building, lacking in the present plan.

At the present time the status of the veterans' building is a bit uncertain. Plans for the building have been approved, it is reported, and submitted to the WPA for a government grant to assist in financing. Whether these plans were approved or rejected is not known, according to James McIver, chairman of the local American Legion building committee.

If it is necessary for the amount required to raised by taxation as has been proposed it will be some time before work can be started and in the meantime the children and others interested will be without a gymnasium unless other steps are taken.

Statistics on journalism currently released by the U. S. Department of Commerce, showing that the fastest growing branch of the "Fourth Estate" is the rural daily and weekly press, may surprise citizens of metropolitan areas, but will hardly cause the lifting of an eyebrow in rural America.

The puzzlement of the cosmopolite over those figures is obvious. Of late years big-city dailies have invaded the rural field; printing special editions which high-speed trains deliver hundreds f miles away while the news is still fresh. Ultra-modern national news weeklies enjoy rural as well as urban popularity. Radio news broadcasts annihilate time. It would seem, at first consideration, time for the rural editor to sing his swan song as a potent factor in journalism—to decline to a purveyor of purely local news.

Yet it is the very access of comparitively remote areas to a constant flood of up-to-the-minute world news that has given the rural press new responsibility as well as opportunity—and augmented importance. Today the rural editor must interperate as well as report national and international news, decisions of government, legislation, trade agreements and economic news—all may affect the agriculture or mining or shipping or lumbering or other industries of his community. He must look beyon d the confines of his subscription territory and scrutinize the great outside world to give his community the best of journalistic services.

That he has succeeded ably, those statistics marking his swing into the lead of the entire American newspaper parade attest. It is a compliment of the highest order to the home town editor.—California Feature Service.

LET'S CLEAN UP NOW!——

With the opening days' attendance at California's World's Fair rushing right past that of the Chicago Fair in 1933, all signs point to a festive year in California when the really big tides of tourist travel start swinging west in a few months.

California will be host to innumerable newcomers, bound not only for the Fair, but in a traveling mood to visit the scenic attractions that California has long been famed for. And there will be the pageants, rodeos, local fairs and festivals, brimful of the color and romance that stand to bid successfully for larger audiences this year.

All signs indicate that California will be on view to more visitors than ever before. We can all do our bit toward making that view one to be favorably remembered by an industrious clean-up campaign, removing unsightly rubbish from the bcklots and sprucing up yards.

We, as much as our visitors, will be the beneficiaries of such a campaign. Let's go to work now to show the brighter face of the Golden State!

MR. ICKES HAS HIS SAY——

....The hysterical outpourings of abuse on the American press by Secretray of Interior Ickes combine a naive illogic with petulant bad temper.

Citing cericumstances leading up to defeat of the Administration-backed reorganization bill in the Senate as a horrible example, Mr. Ickes uses up several thousand vitriolic words in a national weekly magazine to expound the three main points of his thesis. Of commentators who wrote against the bill, he says: "Facts were nothing . . . they outdid one another in eruptive exaggeration. . . ." Conversely, those writers who favored the bill, saysMr. Ickes, struggled "valiantly, if vainly to deflect with facts the mad march of some of their misinformed and misinforming fellow columnists." The third point—a real hair raiser—is the allegation that the Republic is heaed for disaster because the common people are invariably deluded nto swallowing the false ideas of the "mad, misinformed and misinforming" writers—i. e., the public is too unintelligent and uninformed to judge for itself.

Of course, Mr. Ickes system of judging newspapermen by whether they see eye to eye with him on a particular issue is too absurd for refutation. It simply shows tht while he can "dish it out" he can't "take it".

Virtually all newspapers, whether liberal or conservative, Democratic or Republican, print all factual news impartially; so the reader can draw his own conclusions. If an editor exercises his privilege editorially to interperat the news, each reader has the same opprotunity to interperat the same news, and his interpretation may or may not agree with the editor's.

All of which is simply the way—the best way—of a free press in a free Democracy. Mr. Ickes has had his say, and may have it as often as he pleases, in the very press he condemns so roundly. But equally entitled to their say are those who take issue with Mr. Ickes, however much that may continue to irk him!

Mr. Brock, our Director of Agriculture, appeared before the Ways and Means interim committee this week in a gnatty blue suit and an indignant huff. It seems the "Gov" Olson has sod his department down the budget. Nearly every other department got a reccomendation in the Governor's budget message for what they wanted and more. But the Ag department not only didn't get what it asked for but got a sizable sum loped off of its request. Brock said that additional funds would be needed to maintain the border quarantine stations adequately to meet the influx of visitors to the G.G.I.E in San Francisco. As a sideline, Brock very neatly pinned back the big ears of Assemblyman O'Donnell, one of the Assembly's many cynic wits, when O'Donnell asked, "Frankly, Mr. Brock do you erally believe there is any justification for these stations?" Whereupon Brock said he did and proceeded the committee just why and he didn't mince any words on his surprise at O'Donnell's attitude in view of the fact that he represented an agricultural district.

"In regard to the original newspaper article suggesting that Gov. Price had been given the veto power over federal appointments, this and similar stories are, of course, not worth answering or bothering about for the very simple reason that no person—no Governor, no Senator, nc member of the Administration has at any time had, or ever wil have, any right of veto over Presidential nominations. Every person with common sense knows this." —Pres. Roosevelt to Hon. Floyd H. Roberts.

"THE VICE PRESIDENT— 'Let the chair state the question. The question is: Will the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of Floyd H. Roberts of Virginia, to be United States district judge for the western district of Virginia. On this question the yeas and neys have been ordered Those in favor of confirming the nomination will answer "yea" and those opposed will answer "nay" * * *

"THE VICE PRESIDENT (at the conclusion of the roll call)—The result is yeas 9, nays 72, so the Senate refuses to advise and consent the nomination.' —Congressional Record

They can't do that! (Or can they?)

Tahoe . . . . Ramblings . .

By Anne B. Anderson

Constable Harry Johanson this week received a wire from the Marysville police requesting him to hold Raymond Hicks of Tahoe City on a felony warrant charging drunken driving as the result of an automobile accident near there last week. He is at liberty under bail pending trial on March 15.

The level of Lake Tahoe stood at 6226.72 feet on Monday with 343 C. F. S. of water leaving the gate at the Truckee dam outlet. Precipitation during the past week totaled .05 of an inch, received during the snowfall on February 23. The high winds of the past few days caused increased evaporation and a drop of .03 of a foot in the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Darlin of Tahoe Pines returned last week from a trip to Oakland. While there they attended the fair and took in the ski jumping competitions.

Ardent Tahoe fans at the ski jumping contests at Treasure Island included Henry F. Droste and Gene Rogers who attended each day of competition that they could and called the Tahoe boys the "Pride of the Lake". Reider Anderson, the famous Norwegian jumper said Carl Bechdolt's jump of 122 feet was the best jump made on the hill.

Sig Ulland, in an effort to try out the hill for competitors at the Mount Shasta meet, had a bad fall broke his skiis but went back again to make the longest jump on the hill.

Walter Mandeville had the longest standing jump Monday night at the fair.

Oliver Hendrickson of the Tahoe Club placed fifth in the Class C in the state meet at Mount Shasta last weekend with jumps of 69 and 75 feet.

Jack Starratt who competed in the Pacific Intercolelgiate ski meet at Treasure Island placed sixth. James Worden, who had two sprained ankles from a previous meet, was handicapped and did not place in the meet, though he has also been winnig top honors in competitions all season. Both boys represented the University of Nevada.

Mrs. Gerda Hendrickson, with her son Oliver left on Monday for Oakland wheer she will receive medical treatment for an injured ankle.

Mrs. Craig Grover left Monday for San Francisco where she will visit her mother Mrs. Martin Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Green of Sacramento and Tahoe were in Tahoe Sity on Sunday.

Albert Henry, Jr., is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wehrman of Winters.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Callender of The Hut at Homewood returned early in February after a winter spent in traveling through Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pomin of Tahoe Pines returned Saturday from a trip to the Golden Gate fair.

Judge George Bliss, famous and well loved Tahoe justice of the peace is reported as recovering today from an illness which has confined him to his bed since Wednesday. Dr. eBrnard of Truckee is in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Gallinger of Tahoe who have been spending the winter months in Valley Springs returned to Tahoe on Friday. Mrs. Gallinger is the principal of the Tahoe grammar school.

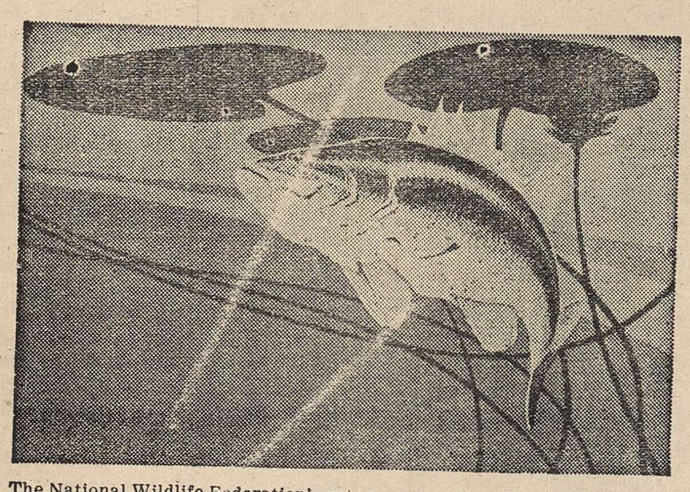
There Aren't Many Like Her

The distinction of being one of the few girl sports editors on a daily newspaper is held by Miss Anne Dooley, 19, of the Albany, Ore.. Democrat-Herald, who is shown at her typewriter. She quit college to work for The Democrat-Herald, but hopes to get her degree later.

Fish Gets Big Majority



The National Wildlife Federation's vote among anglers and outdoor editors on the popularity standing of fish resulted in an easy victory for the large-mouth bass. The large-mouth likes shallow, weedy lakes, not too cold. In Florida, where bass feed voraciously all winter, specimens weighing as much as 20 pounds have been caught. The large mouth is almost as greedy as members of the pike family. This portrait of the large-mouth was painted for Wildlife Week poster stamps by Fred Everett.

TAHOE SKIIERS WIN HIGEST HONORS IN MT. SHASTA MEET

TAHOE CITY, Mar. 2.— Lake Tahoe Ski Club members were rejoicing today on learning that Tahoe boys competiting at the California State Championships at Mt Shasta last weekend had won, Carl Bechdolt taking first in Class B jumping to be awarded the trophy cup. His young brother, Billy Bechdolt took highest honors in Class C competition and Richard Carnell winning Class D jumping, to give Tahoe a fine score.

Although he leaped many feet farther than his nearest rival, Sig Ulland took only third place in the A Class jumping. This feature of the event did not go over so big with the Tahoe fans and others who saw the contest. Spectators said Ulland was in good form, but the judges failed to see it with the spectators.

Albert Henry of Tahoe took fourth place in Class B.

Other Tahoe members who went to the meet were Oliver and Charles Hendrickson, Pietro Vanni, Jimmy Easton, David Renner, Walter and Bud Mandeville. The were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry Floyd Carnell and Mrs. Carl Bechdolt, Jr.

Ulalnd was awarded a fine Gladstone bag for making the longest jump. All other winners were presented with medals denoting the state championships.

Carl Bechdolt also wo nthe B Class championship at the Golden Gate International Meet at Treasure Island last Wednesday and Albert Henry placed fourth.

This makes an outstanding winning season for Bechdolt, who has won or placed in every meet he has entered this year and the sports writers concede that he as well as some of the other Tahoe members represent possible Olympic material.

Sig Ulland was unable to enter at Treasure Island on account of an injured knee and really should not have entered the Shasta meet as his knee was still in bad shape. He left for the Washington State meet on Sunday.

Walter Mandeville and Dave Renner placed well up withing the first ten at both Treasure Island and Mt. Shasta.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry with Tahoe's famed jumper, Sig Ulland left Friday for Mt. Shasta where they will attend teh ski meet.

Mrs. Tajas Edwards entertained at a very pleasant afternoon party last Thursday for the following guests Mrs. A. M. Henry, Mrs. W. A. Simmonds, Mrs. Floyd Carnell, Mrs. Henry Wehrman and Mrs. E. Beauvais.

Mrs. Carl Bechdolt, Sr., gave a birthday luncheon in honor of her niece, Babe Harris. The honoree received many lovely gifts as well as the usual festive cake. After the luncheon the party drove to Reno to attend a show. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Ramus of Bryte.

INVITATIONS RECEIVED BY TAHOE SKIIERS FOR YOSEMITE MEET

TAHOE CITY, Mar. 2.— Miss Kathleen Starratt of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club and Carl Bechdolt, Jr., have received invitations from the Yosemite Winter Club to compete in the first Far West Kandahar Ski Races to be held at Yosemite Park March 17 and 18. This race will be limited to skiers of proven ability and is to be modeled after the famous Kandahar race in Switzerland, the winning of which is one of the highest honors a skiier can achieve in the ski world.

As Miss Starratt is now in training with members of the American women's team at Sun Valley, it is uncertain as to whether she will be able to enter the race.

Also invited to enter from Tahoe Club are Albert Henry, James Worden and Jack Starratt.

WITH YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN, THURMAN

(by Assemblyman Allen G. Thurman)

Last week we gave you the gist of six of the eight mining bills which have been introduced in both houses of the legislature. The two other mining bills follow:

Senate Bill No. 699 introduced by Senator Bigger proposes to add a section to the public resources code providing that all materials dredged by gold dredgers must be replaced to the original depth with top soil replaced. It would compell landscaping if all dredged property. The bill imposes a penalty of a $500 fine or six months in jail as a misdemeanor

Senate bill No. 857 introduced by Senator Carter would repeal Section 661 of the civil code. Ths section of the present code reads as follows:

"Sluice boxes, flumes, hose, pipes railway tracks, cars, blacksmith shops mills and all other machinery and tools used in working of developing a mine are to be deemed affixed to the mine."

Senator Carter explained that the law has worked a hardship on the lessees who failed to provide in their leases for renewal of tools and equipment placed on leased claims by them Repeal of Section 661 would permit the removal of loose tools, machinery and equipment not permanently affixed to the soil, whether or not such removal had been provided in the lease.

There are a number of fish and game bills which effect the mining industry including several stream pollution bills. Assembly Bill No. 1360 by Assemblyman Call and others would amend Section 481 of the Fish and Game Code. This is a most stringent and all-inclusive pollution bill covering chemcal content of all waste and directed against petroleum, coal fish and vegetable oils, sawmills mining and other industries. Defines pollution as anything which increases turbidity of a stream by more than 25 parts per million if tailings are from mill ,dredge or other mining operation, exclusive of hydrolic mining.

Several other pollution bills would restrict placer mining in the Trinity and Klamath rive areas.

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 2.—(UP) — After two weeks of interim committee hearings in the state capitol, even the skeptical critics are admitting it was a good idea to wade through some of the preliminaires before the legislature reconvenes March 6.

The usual custom if for legislators to waste the interim at home, come back to Sacramento for the second half of the session and then be swamped with a mulitite of duties night sesisons, conferences, calls of the house and other distinctions of a legislature.

Most legislators are members of five, six or more committees and find it impossible to attend all or give their full attention to any one group With the more important committees meeting during the interim, one subject a time can be considered and remove that much load from the necessary meeting after March 6.

To illustrate the mass of information that can be secured during the interim, the senate committee on social security, pensions and relief is a good case in point. The group met four days, averaged seven hours per day instead of the usual three or four maximum during the session and piled up more than 1000 pages of rtanscript from a parade of witnesses. Getting the transcript on paper for the committee will cost about $800 but the data is invaluable in studying definite information secured from affected parties.

For example, State Relief Administrator H. Dewey Anderson and his aides presented a complete picture of relief conditions in California, the aims of the production for use program he desires to put into effect the advisability of working low cost housing into the state relief program the state's arguement against a bill to restore relief administration to the counties and other aspects of migratory labor. State, county and federal officials presented their views and testimony was welcomed from many organizations and individuals.

The combination budget hearing of the state senate finance and assembly ways and means committees gave various state departments a chance to defend their items in the budget and in most cases to ask for more money than Governor Olson inculded in his estimates. Much of this testimony will be rehashed as a later date but the opportunity to study the various proposals greatly familiarized the legislators with the situation.

Other committees that held interim sessions were senate reevnue and taxation, assembly unemployment and industrial relations, senate and assembly agriculture and senate livestock dairies

While the committees took a preview of proposed legislation, Governor Olson had things humming in the corner office of the capitol. Apparently recovered from his illness, Olson is spending almonst fulltime at his desk and has cleared up much of the delayed business that accumulated during his absence. One of his first considerations is filling the rest of the miscellaneous appointments at his disposal before March 6.

The governor was kept busy watching the various strike fronts in Northern California. His observers kept tabs on jurisdictional and other labor strife at the Westwood lumber mills in Redding at the site of the relocation railroad project around the Shasta dam and a later bay area dispute which tied up shipping.

The governor's office, decorated in conservative blue, took on a gayer color with the presentation of a rich hand embroidered American and California bear flags by the national guard to Olson. The large flags were spread to the hight and slightly behind the governor's massive desk.

STUDY RELIEF PLAN

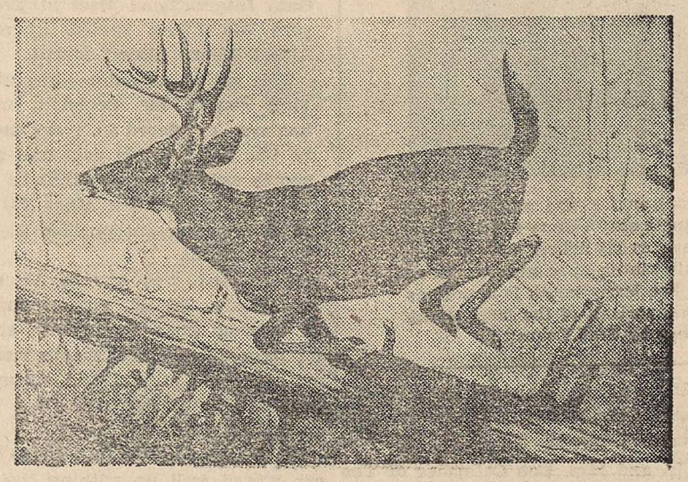
SACRAMENTO, Mar. 2.— (UP)— The senate committee on social security, pensions and relief today pondered plans to reduce the huge $116,000,000 unemployment benefits reserve fund on a basis of testimony presented during the committee's recessed hearings.

California is in the pecular position of having collected $68,000,000 during the same period that it paid out $29,000,000 in fenefits, members of the unemployment reserves commission told the committee.

Tree of Occult Mystery

Most singular of trees on the continent of North America is the Monterey cypress, originally found only in California. It is said that the tree was originally brought across the Pacific ocean in an open boat by Buddhist monks from a monastery in Thibet where the ancestor of the Monterey cypress has been venerated for centuries. Leslie Ragan painted this in his series of trees and flowers for the 1939 Wildlife Week stamp sheets, distributed by the National Wildlife Federation.

Best Known Big Game



The white-tail deer of the east and south is America's best known large wild animal. This species of deer has enormously increased in many northern states within the past quarter of a century, returning to territory from which it had been totally absent for a hundred years. There are now plenty of deer within 50 miles of New York city. Lynn Bogue Hunt painted the white-tail deer for the 1935 Wildlife Week poster stamps.

Meek's Bay

By Mrs. Lee Garner

Mrs. George Kehlet and son Fred of Alhambra opened their spacious new summer home at Meek's Bay and entertained a group of football players from the University of California who are prominent in their realm of sport. Alos other guests included Mrs. Mary Wright and Mrs. Violet Benadum of Alhambra. The players were namely Vic Bottari, left halfback, Ray Rosso, left guard, Ted Hubert, fullback, Bill Stoll, right tackle, Buss Picco, student of the university and Toby Heabe, halfback for Fresno State. Vic Bottari will be remembered by football fans as the player of unanimous choice for the all-American team this year. The others are outstanding players of high rating in college. After talking with modest Vic we still wonder if he will turn professional.

Mr. and Mrs. Radfird Kiefer entertained Sunday evening with a dinner party. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heller, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Gier and Mr. and Mrs. William Elam.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kiefer and family were guests of their son Radford Kiefer and wife driving up from Sonoma to spend the day.

M. and Mrs. John Meyers of Rio Linda are the porud parents of a lovely baby girl born February 12th. Mrs. Meyers is the former Pauline Roberts, well known in this vicinity as the daughter of Chet Roberts, owner of the stables at Meek's Bay. The baby has been named Jillette Yvonne.

Waltman Charges New Deal With Disregarding Verdict Of Vox Populi and Polls

(by Franklyn Waltman)

The Rosevelt Administration seems determined to buck public opinion on every possible occasion. Last November the people voted for less politics in relief, whereupon Roosevelt put Political Relief Administrator Hopkins into his cabinet. Michigan repudiated Governor Murphy's law enforcement stand on sit-down strikes, so the President gave hime the job of Attorney General. The voters demanded encouragement of business, and the President nominated the socialistic Thomas R. Amlie to the Interstate Commerce Commission. Now once again the New Dealers buck public opinion.

On December 11 the Institute of Public Opinion reported that 74 per cent of the people wanted the Dies investigation of un-American activities continued. The Roosevelt Administration tried every device to end the work of the Committee but public opinion proved too strong. So or February 3 the House of Representatives voted 344 to 35 to continue it for another year. Whereupon Speaker Bankhead appointed Rep. Jerry Voorhis (D.) of California, a left wing New Dealer and former Socialist, to fill a vacancy on the Dies Committee.

But more important is the fact that Mr. Voorhis is completely out of sympathy with the aims and objectives of the Dies Committee. He was one of the handful of House members who voted against continuing the Dies committee. The suspicion naturally arises that sabotage of the committee's work was the object of the Voor his appointment. What other explanation can there be with so many able and sympathetic Democrats in the House from which to choose a member?

Washington Celebrates Its Golden Anniversary of Statehood At Exposition

SAN FRANCISO, Mar. 2— Washington has a more direct, vital and thrilling interest in the Golden Gate International Exposition than any other state in the union, said E. H. McPherson, newspaper editor of Wenatchee, Wash., an Exposition visitor here with his wife.

"One reason is the fact that 1939 is our Golden Jubilee year," he said. "The state was admitted to the Union by proclamation of President Benjamin Harrison on November 11, 1889."

"We had planned to stage a Jubilee celebration of our own this year but when San Francisco announced its Exposition, we abandoned our project."

Senator Forbid Defition Of Sanity For Fear Of Finding Own Lack

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 2 —(UP) —Many of the proposals before the 53rd Legislature probably are considered in the "crazy" class by some persons, but certain members aren't going to take any chances on revealing the state of their mentality.

During a committee hearing, a Senator questioned the expert witness testifying as to what constituted the symptoms of a specified type of insanity.

The expert's answer was drowned in a chorus of:

"No, no, no; we think we're sane, let's continue to hold that belief."

Sportsmen's Tax Fund Claimed for Wildlife By National Federation

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The voice of conservation in America will be raised emphatically during the present session of congress, it was announced today from headquarters of the National Wildlife Federation.

The legislative program of the Federation, says Carl D. Shoemaker, executive secretary, calls for the carrying out of the purposes of the Pittman-Robertson act, support of the Izaak Walton League's anti-pollution bill and the setting up of projects for improvement of fishing by the states. A 10 per cent tax on fishing tackle is proposed for this purpose.

The Pittman-Robertson act earmarked excise tax funds from the sale of arms and ammunition for use in the states for wildlife restoration.

States Benefiting

About 20 states already have set up Pittman-Robertson projects approved by the Bureau of Biological Survey.

Through Federation activity, an advance appropriation of $1,000,000 was made to enable these projects to be launched without waiting until June 30, this year, for the tax funds to be available.

Meanwhile the current budget allots $1,000,000 for Pittman-Robertson operations, although it is estimated that there will be on hand $3,250,000 from sportsmen's tax payments. Taking out the advance of $1,000,000, there would be left about $2,250,000 for the nation-wide restoration projects in the states. By the end of 1939, more than 40 states probably will be in line for Pittman-Robertson benefits, consisting basically of research and of land management for the increase of valuable wildlife.

The excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition now requires legislative renewal every two years. It automatically expires next June. It is proposed to make the tax permanent.

Wildlife Refuge Earnings

There are nearly 300 wildlife refuges administered by the Bureau of Biological Survey. Many of them yield incomes, from hay crops, fur and various leases. This income now goes into the Federal treasury, and will amount within the next year or two to between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000. The Federation urges that this sum be ear-marked for administration of the refuge system.

The Izaak Walton League has again brought to Congress a bill for the control of stream pollution on a national scale. This is in line with one of the declarations of policy made at the time the National Wildlife Federation was formed. In the last congress an anti-pollution bill, sponsored by the Izaak Walton League, was amended until it lost all effectiveness, and was vetoed by the President.

The Federation gives its full support to this new measure.

"At the proper moment," Mr. Shoemaker explains, "the State Federations and their affiliated organizations, such as sportsmen's clubs, Garden Clubs, youth groups, farmers and business men, will be given full information as to what is pending, and what should be done to help. Then, they can follow the recommendations of the Federation if they see fit.

"The Federation is a servicing body, with two aims—keeping the public informed what is doing politically in relation to wildlife, and building up an adequate program of education in the fundamentals of conservation."

Dr. Anderson Charged With Using Relief Fund For Own Political Advantage, Report

BAKERSFIELD, Mar. 2— California is the "politically created Mecca for the impoverished and unfortunate of the rest of the nation."

That is the charge hurled by Tom W. McManus, secretary of the California Citizen's Association, in a statement to the Assembly interim committee on unemployment and relief. He quoted the State Relief Administration figures showing that one-fourth of the State's relief load was composed of migrants from other states who had been in California less than three year.

He charged that Dr. H. Dewey Anderson, new State Relief Director "either by didect order or by tacit approval" has disregarded eligibility requirements for relief, and asked:

"Is this an attempt to coerce and intimidate our lawmakers?

"Is it an attempt to create for future use a greater political power?

"Is it an attempt to change the political and economic complexion of our state?

"Is it not direct evidence of willingness to capitalize on human misery by those making a career of administering public charity?"

More than 300,000 indigent and near indigent migrants and their families have entered California during the past two years, he said.

McManus cited comparative October relief figures for the four states that contribute almost 75 per cent of the indigents:

California	$28.60
Arkansas	3.46
Oklahoma	3.79
Missouri	10.81
Texas	9.14

The Good Neighbor

WE HEAR much today of the "Good Neighbor" policy. One of the most encouraging signs of the progress of social justice in the world is the increasing sense of responsibility concerning the welfare of our fellow beings. Between governments and nations the "Good Neighbor" attitude should be encouraged. Community welfare campaigns often adopt the slogan, "Be a Good Neighbor." In times of disaster organized agencies spring into action to alleviate distress regardless of race, creed, or color. Men are definitely awakening from callous indifference to the sufferings of others to a desire to relieve these sad conditions and remove their causes.

In view of this awakened consciousness we may well ask ourselves, "Just what is a good neighbor?" Jesus eloquently answered this question in the parable of the good Samaritan. But it is well to remember that he prefaced his description of true neighborliness by first emphasizing the two great commandments (Luke 10:27), "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself." Then followed his story of the man who fell among thieves and was left by the roadside in his distress, and was passed by until rescued by the Samaritan, who thus proved himself a good neighbor.

Therefore, in striving to be a good neighbor to one's fellow men one must start with love for God and man. Intelligently to love God requires a correct understanding of His nature. In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, God is defined (P. 587) as "the great I AM; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance, intelligence." Thus God must be acknowledged as the only power and presence, the All of man's existence. One must turn to Him in childlike trust, confident that His law of ever-operative good is sufficient to meet every human problem. This is truly loving God supremely.

How easy it is to love the all-loving God, but how often it seems difficult to love one's neighbor when so much that is unlovable is apparent about him! But is the unlovely mortal one's real neighbor? The Bible tells us (Genesis 1:27) that man is made in God's image, and that image surely cannot contain or include a single quality not to be found in God, the original. That which seems disagreeable or discordant is no more part of the real spiritual man than is mud which may be spattered by a passing car a part of the person it besmirches. Even as the mud cannot deceive us, neither should the false qualities which claim to be part of our neighbor. It is our task to separate the false from the true and to see the real reflection of God. This is truly loving our neighbor.

To love our neighbor as ourselves includes even more. To love one's own true selfhood aright is the opposite of self-love, for it requires us to separate the false qualities of thought from ourselves as well as others and to prove that we are indeed "the sons of God" (I John 3:2), in thought and act. We must see ourselves as the spiritual, loving reflection of the all-inclusive Mind, completely controlled by divine Principle. We cannot unsee the faults of character in others and yet cherish them in ourselves. To see ourselves and others as God sees His creation, fulfills our duty to love another as ourselves.

Jesus' answer in the parable to the question (Luke 10:29), "Who is my neighbor?" is as applicable today as it was then. All of God's spiritual ideas, His children, are truly neighbors. Charity should begin at home, but not end there. As we meet the common daily opportunities to be helpful which lie on every side with the cheery smile, the word of encouragement, and little services, we are proving that our neighborliness is practical. . . . But we need to broaden our boundaries by including all mankind in our friendliness. . . . Then let our thoughts, like good Samaritans winged with spiritual power, reflect the Love which reaches beyond boundaries of community and country, and provides abundantly for His universe. Confident faith in His government among the nations will help to lift the heavy clouds of fear and oppression which threaten the peace of the world today.

One more lesson may be learned from the parable of the good Samaritan. The immediate need was met and also provision left for future care. Then let us add to our right thinking about our neighbor the assurance that God's continuous, abundant supply for His children is throughout eternity. Thus placing ourselves and our neighbors in God's care, knowing that all is well, we are truly loving God supremely and being a good neighbor.—The Christian Science Monitor.
